The unique requirements of the Charter of the French Language in Québec pose many challenges for businesses, as do the requirements of the Official Languages Act in respect of certain federally regulated organizations.

In addition, An Act Respecting French, the official and common language of Québec enacted significant amendments to the Charter of the French Language that significantly increase compliance issues and risk in respect of doing business in Québec. Understanding and implementing the requirements of the new rules is critical for businesses to remain compliant.

Osler's team of experts can provide guidance on all language law requirements. As regulatory and compliance specialists, we are often consulted as trusted advisors to aid in reducing risk and maintaining compliance with the Charter of the French Language and the Official Languages Act. Our team also advises clients on regulatory and statutory compliance, across a wide range of industries as well as representing them in their dealings with the board charged with overseeing compliance of the Charter, the Office québécois de la langue française, and the Federal Commissioner of Official Languages. Having litigated Official Languages Act claims at the federal level, we are also uniquely qualified to face the new trend of language litigation that will follow the adoption of the new rules.

Our experienced and fully bilingual lawyers can help you evaluate and manage risks in several areas including

- Employment and labour law
- Contracts (including public sector procurement)
- Civil and commercial litigation (including class actions)
- Pensions and benefits
- Financial services
- Marketing and distribution
- Translation Services
