Navigating a complex, evolving landscape

Against a backdrop of amplified public and governmental discourse on tax avoidance, and increasingly complex rules and compliance requirements, taxpayers face greater scrutiny by the tax authorities. Access to strategic and experienced tax law counsel is imperative in mitigating the potential impact of such scrutiny.

Widely acknowledged as having the leading tax litigation practice in Canada, our lawyers advocate for taxpayers in disputes arising in the audit, appeal and litigation stages. Osler is counsel of record to Canadian and foreign-based corporations doing business in Canada on all aspects of litigating tax disputes, and our lawyers are retained on more complex and significant tax cases than any other firm in the country.

Our tax litigators operate as an integrated unit with our tax subject matter experts and with our commercial litigators for courtroom intensive matters. Osler stands alone in its ability to litigate complex tax matters, such as transfer pricing and the general anti-avoidance rule (GAAR), that involve multiple weeks of factual and expert evidence. This type of litigation can only be conducted by a well-integrated team with depth of talent at every level and across disciplines. Our clients also benefit from deep litigation bench strength on contested motions and evidentiary matters.

Osler has acted as counsel on landmark and complex tax cases of national importance affecting large classes of taxpayers before the Supreme Court of Canada, the Federal Court of Appeal, the Tax Court of Canada, and other courts in numerous cases that have shaped Canadian tax law. Our work includes acting as counsel on the first GAAR and transfer pricing cases in which a taxpayer succeeded before the Supreme Court of Canada, as well as the only cases before the Supreme Court involving the interpretation of Canada's foreign subsidiary taxation rules.

Our firm is at the leading edge of the market, advising clients on an expansive range of contentious tax issues, with expertise in a number of industries, including

- Banking and Financial Services
- Energy and Infrastructure
- Logistics and Retail

- Mining and Natural Resources
- Pharmaceuticals
- Power and Utilities
- Real Estate
- Telecom
