Privacy and Data Management

Éloïse is a partner and Co-Chair of Osler’s national Privacy and Data Management practice. Recognized nationally as a pioneer in the field of privacy, she advises corporations and their boards on compliance, crisis and risk management, cyber incidents, ethics and data governance matters, including in the evolving area of artificial intelligence. Éloïse also represents clients on privacy regulatory investigations.

Ranked Band 1 by Chambers Canada in Privacy & Data Management, Éloïse offers strategic support to Canadian and international clients. She has authored several books in the privacy law area used in law courses and cited by academic journals and landmark privacy decisions of the Supreme Court of Canada. Éloïse serves as a member of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce Innovations & IP Committee and has testified before parliamentary committees on information, privacy and technology. She is a member of the Institute of Corporate Directors and is a board member of Canada Health Infoway.

Éloïse was recently honoured by Canadian Lawyer magazine as a forward thinker and selected twice as one of the country’s 25 most influential lawyers. She has also been named one of Canada’s Top 100 Most Influential Women by the Women’s Executive Network (WXN) in the “CIBC Trailblazers & Trendsetters” category.
