

Jonathan Marin

Partner, Pensions and Benefits

Toronto

(416) 862-5935

jomarin@osler.com

Bar Admission: Ontario, 2011 | New Brunswick, 2022

Areas of Expertise

Government and Public Sector

Private Equity

Investment Management

Banking and Financial Services

Executive Compensation

Pensions and Benefits

Jon practices exclusively in the pensions and employee benefits law area where he provides advice on legal and regulatory issues affecting all aspects of provincially and federally regulated pension plans and other employee benefit plans.

Jon deals with issues such as plan design, governance and administration, pension de-risking, plan wind ups, plan compliance, as well as pension and benefit issues arising in corporate transactions generally, including acquisitions, divestitures, mergers and corporate reorganizations.

Jon has assisted on several conversions of registered pension plans from defined benefit to shared risk plans (a form of target benefit plan) in both the public and private sectors in the province in New Brunswick. Jon also provides ongoing advice relating to the administration of shared risk plans.

Awards and Recognition

- Chambers Canada: Canada’s Leading Lawyers for Business: Recognized in Pensions & Benefits
- Best Lawyers in Canada: Recognized in Employee Benefits Law
- Legal 500: Recognized as a “Rising Star”
- Lexpert Rising Stars: Recognized as a Rising Star (2024)
- Canadian Legal Lexpert Directory: Recognized in Pensions & Employee Benefits – Employer

---

Credentials

Education

- University of Western Ontario, J.D.
- University of St. Andrews, M.Litt
- Queen’s University, B.A. (Hons.)

.....

Languages

- English

.....

Professional Affiliations

- Law Society of Ontario
- Ontario Bar Association (Pensions & Benefits Law Section Executive: Member-At-Large, 2015–2016)
- Canadian Bar Association (Pension and Benefits Law Sector Executive, since 2017)
- Association of Canadian Pension Management
- Canadian Pension & Benefits Institute